Workshop on ‘A Sensitive Teacher’

Teaching is not just about passing information. It's about having an honest, loving and intellectual relationship with the students. Highlighting the importance and significance of this relationship, a workshop was conducted in Sanskriti School, Chanakyapuri, on the topic, "A Sensitive Teacher" by Ms Ranjana Rawat, as. She is a certified family therapist in the corporate sector and takes sessions on Personality development, balance issues, Stress management besides many more.

In the workshop, Ms Rawat focussed on the role of teachers as mentors. A teacher can inspire hope, ignite the imagination, enhance creativity and install a love of learning in the students. She emphasised that, connecting with students becomes a pre-requisite before correcting them. Respectful listening, motivating and believing that each one of them has something special are the key points which make for a 'sensitive and sensible teacher.'

Ms Ranjana Rawat cited myriads of stories and anecdotes which kept everyone hooked. The Sanskriti faculty keenly participated in the workshop. They raised pertinent queries and gave their feedback on various aspects of teaching. This interactive and informative workshop allowed the teachers to look at the theories and examples they encounter in the classroom from a fresh perspective.
