

On Thursday, the 18th of January, students from 11th grade pursuing Business Studies visited the Yakult Donane factory located in Sonapat, Haryana, as part of their educational curriculum.

The state of the art factory, inaugurated exactly a decade back on January 18th 2008, was spread over 8 acres, 30% of which was the green belt area. Students were taken around the immensely hygienic and impressive factory, and briefed about the significance of probiotics in our diet. Amongst the many themes brought up were concepts such as ownership of companies, manufacturing of products, transportation and marketing of the same, which helped students, relate the theoretical knowledge in their textbooks to its practical application, which was right in front of their eyes.

The experience was an extremely enriching one, and was appreciated by every student.
